NOTE.

The majority of the older books in this interesting collection originally formed part of the bequest made to Sion College by Dr. John Lawson in 1705. Lawson was an eminent practitioner in the City and President of the Royal College of Physicians, and he left his books to the College on account of his friendship with Archbishop Tenison. These books do not appear ever to have been of much use to the Fellows and members of the College, and they have been deteriorating through a long period of disuse.

Further Medical Books were added to the collection from the bequest made by Archdeacon Edward Waple, who left his Library to the College in 1712. Waple was a devoted son of the College, of which he was President in 1704, and it is of interest to note that he wisely made provision in the terms of his bequest to enable the President and Governors to sell those books "of wch they have already better duplicates in yr Library," or others which "they shall judge it convenient to do so." About 300 volumes were sold in 1712 for £155, and the money was spent partly in fixing chains—the marks of which remain—to the books retained, and also in the purchase of accessions. The proceeds of the present sale will be devoted to the preservation of the older and more valuable books in the Library.

As to the condition of the books which form part of the Lawson and Waple bequests, many of these were evidently acquired by the original owners as the books appeared, and they are in contemporary calf bindings. Owing to disuse, however, the leather of the bindings has become brittle, and most of the covers are broken. The books themselves have not, generally speaking, suffered, and they have fair margins owing to the fact that they have never been re-bound. The volumes in folio are nearly all more or less water-stained as a result of the overflow of the Thames many years ago. Any imperfections noticed have, as usual, been described, but it has not been thought necessary to repeat the defects as to broken bindings or the water-stained condition of the folios.

The books are catalogued in approximate chronological order, and the abbreviated references are as follows :—

Osler=Sir William Osler's Bibliotheca Osleriana, Oxford 1929 ; Garrison=Garrison's History of Medicine, Philadelphia 1917 ; D.N.B.=Dictionary of National Biography, 1885-1930 ; and Sabin=Sabin's Bibliotheca Americana, N.Y. 1868-1936.
